ETD@CUA Submission Copyright Statement

Please choose one of the following two licenses and check the appropriate box.

The ETD@CUA Worldwide Distribution License:

I grant The Catholic University of America (“Institution”), my academic department (“Department”), and Digital Scholarship at CUA (“Repository”) the non-exclusive right to reproduce and/or distribute my submission (including the metadata and abstract) worldwide, in any format or medium, for non-commercial, research, educational, or related academic purposes only.

I also authorize The Catholic University of America to allow users of the Repository to distribute my submission (including the metadata and abstract) worldwide, in any format or medium, for non-commercial, research, educational, or related academic purposes only, subject to any temporary embargo below. The Catholic University of America will clearly identify my name(s) as the author(s) or owner(s) of the submission, and will not make any alteration, other than as allowed by this license, to my submission.

Public access to my dissertation in the Repository shall become effective:

Immediately

24 months after I deposit my dissertation

12 months after I deposit my dissertation

60 months after I deposit my dissertation

By accepting this license and depositing my thesis or dissertation in the Repository, I understand that I do not give up the copyright to my work, and I do not give up the right to submit the work to publishers or share it with other repositories or individuals.

The ETD@CUA Local Distribution License:

I grant The Catholic University of America (“Institution”), my academic department (“Department”), and Digital Scholarship at CUA (“Repository”) the non-exclusive right to reproduce and/or distribute my submission (including the metadata and abstract) to students, faculty, staff, and walk-in users of CUA libraries, and those libraries of the Washington Research Library Consortium (WRLC), in any format or medium, for non-commercial, research, educational, or related academic purposes only.

I also authorize The Catholic University of America to allow CUA community users of the repository to distribute my submission (including the metadata and abstract) in any format or medium, for CUA internal, non-commercial, research, educational, or related academic purposes only. The Catholic University of America will clearly identify my name(s) as the author(s) or owner(s) of the submission, and will not make any alteration, other than as allowed by this license, to my submission.

I understand that under this license, I allow The Catholic University of America a more limited set of rights than those afforded under the Open Access license option. My deposit (except for the metadata and abstract) will not be accessible to colleagues or students at other universities outside the WRLC.

By accepting this license and depositing my thesis or dissertation in the Repository, I understand that I do not give up the copyright to my work, and I do not give up the right to submit the work to publishers or share it with other repositories or individuals.

Please note the university retains a non-exclusive right to all research reported in manuscripts funded in whole or part by the National Institutes of Health and/or the National Science Foundation funding, so as to ensure compliance with the National Institutes of Health and/or National Science Foundation Public Access Policies.

By choosing either The ETD@CUA Worldwide Distribution License or The ETD@CUA Local Distribution License, you agree to the following:

- The Catholic University of America may translate the submission to any medium or format and keep more than one copy for the purposes of security, back up and long-term preservation of the scholarly record.
- The submission is your original work, and/or that you have the right to grant the rights contained in this license.
- The submission does not, to the best of your knowledge, infringe upon anyone's copyright.
- You also represent and warrant that the submission contains no libelous or other unlawful matter and makes no improper invasion of the privacy of any other person.
- If the submission contains material for which you do not hold copyright and that exceeds fair use, you represent that you have obtained the unrestricted permission of the copyright owner to grant The Catholic University of America the rights required by this license, and that such third-party owned material is clearly identified and acknowledged within the text or content of the submission.
- If the submission is based upon work that has been sponsored or supported by an agency or organization other than The Catholic University of America, such as the National Institutes of Health, the National Science Foundation, or private funder(s), you represent that you have fulfilled any right of review, confidentiality, or other obligations required by that contract or agreement.
